

Call for Presentations Now Open

21st Annual Entrepreneur's Growth & Networking Conference June 6, 2019 @ Duquesne University campus

One of western Pennsylvania's longest running entrepreneurship events, the EGNC features morning and luncheon keynotes, a business building tradeshow and a line-up of 12 educational workshops, the cornerstone of the event.

We're always searching for fresh topics and new speakers for our workshops. Do you have an idea for a topic related to marketing, data analytics, trending technologies for growth, social media, sales, raising money/finance, prototyping and licensing, branding, buying a business, growth, crowd-funding and other relevant topic? We'd like to hear from you.

Pitch Your Presentation Idea

We're proud of our history in providing entrepreneurs with invaluable networking, introductions to leading experts, and content geared to helping them move from start-up to thriving venture.

If you're interested in submitting a proposal, here are a few guidelines:

- All presentations should be 45 minutes in length
- Sessions can be offered in both presentation and panel formats
- If you are a service provider, you must present with a client
- Each workshop must have two-to-three presenters

Perks of Presenting

- Complimentary registration
- Discount code to share with your clients/customers/colleagues
- Discounted exhibit space, if interested
- Your name and bio featured on the conference website

Proposal Guidelines (no more than two pages)

- Name, title, company/organization
- Phone, email, social media handles
- A brief description of your area of expertise, plus a 200 word or less bio
- List of places/events where you have presented
- Proposed title of workshop with an outline and a suggested 200 word abstract

Please submit your two-page proposal by Feb. 15th to Debbie Shiring at dshiring@comcast.net
